How to Fight the High Cost of Living

Clothes Should Be Simply Designed and Becoming—An Extensive Wardrobe Not Necessary—Separate Skirts—Tailored Shirts and Hosiery Openwork Designs in Embroidery Popular—Details of Stitchery.

CLOTHES SIMPLY DESIGNED AND BECOMING.

Clothes play a big factor toward ameliorating the discomforts of warm weather.

It is not necessary to have an extensive wardrobe in order to present a well-groomed appearance, but it is essential that every garment be fit and simply designed—this is the slogan of the well-dressed business woman.

Washable silk and cotton crepes are among the coolest and most serviceable materials for summer wear. This includes underwear and gowns as well. The latter may be changed every day and do not require any pressing. All desirable colors are to be found in these crepe weaves, both in the plain colors and figured patterns.

Neutral colors, as gray, tan, brown and blue, do not show the soil and are really a far better investment than white or the lighter colors, even though they are far more tempting in appearance.

Bath and dimity in well-covered grounds, with checks or neat figures, and summer silks may be worn for several weeks or longer without requiring cleaning.

SEPARATE SKIRTS—TAILORED SHIRTS—HOSIERY.

Separate skirts of ratine or pongee, Bedford cord and linen are worn with blouses of cotton crepe, voile and batiste. Tailored shirts of China silk, tub silk and crepe de chine are worn in white or matched in silk with the skirt.

Gulmpes with high neck or collar, less worn with surplice gowns or with U-shaped, are quite comfortable, and as they are adjustable several styles may be worn with the same dress.

Several changes of underwear during the week are necessary to insure personal comfort and hygiene. Tan hosiery and Oxford are far more comfortable than black or colored. White hose or silk and canvas ties are quite the coolest footwear a woman may choose.

OPEN WORK DESIGNS POPULAR.

All sorts of open and cut work designs are popular just now, particularly for candle shades. The light coming through a colored silk background gives a beautiful effect.

The latest developments along these lines is known as Richelieu embroidery. At first glance it has somewhat the appearance of Venetian lace, and while the method of execution is really quite simple, when finished it has a most elaborate effect.

This embroidery is quite different from the embroidered netting that bears the same name. The latter shows flower and leaf subjects, with a frequent vase motif, carried out in linen stitch on a netted background. Linen stitch is really a form of darning.

Buttuhole Stich. In the modern Richelieu embroidery a stitch just as ordinary as the darning stitch is employed. In this form of needlework all of the rich, lacy effects are obtained through the humble medium of buttuhole stitching.

Flower, leaf, fruit and bird designs are set into the lace like backgrounds and the finished pieces are very handsome and expensive looking. Sometimes a cupid or a satyr will be set into a woody background, and again a quaint scene without perspective will stand out from the open work with quite the air of a genuine heirloom.

Sometimes two or more pieces of Richelieu embroidery will be joined together by a loosely done crocheted background.

Brown, tan, white or cream linen may be used for this embroidery. Cluny lace, tinted to match the linen, forms the usual finish.

Straight bands of it may be inserted with good effect into window curtains, bureau scarfs, lingerie pillows, and so on, while in the case of table centers, luncheon cloths and doilies the effect of the polished wood showing through is excellent.

Detail of Stitchery.

All the lines of the lacy background are stamped on the linen. The outlines of the design are first followed with a running stitch, and then closely buttuholed over in such a way that the purled edge points outward. The only difficult part of the embroidery is the management of the "brides." A "bride" is a point of intersection of the lace background if it is not well executed, the finished piece will be weak.

In making a "bride" the thread is to be carried over from the point of the outline of the last stitch over to the nearest portion of the design, and then the thread is buttuholed back to the outline just left.

If there are picots on the "brides" proceed in the usual way to buttuhole where the picot is to be, go back to the third buttuhole, buttuhole back in the loop just formed to the "bride" and continue buttuholing along the "bride."

A "bride" is merely laid upon the surface of the linen, while the outline work is taken right through the material.

When the embroidery is finished the linen is cut away, leaving only the open work connecting the design.

RECIPES.

Sauteed String-Beans—Cold cooked beans may be recooked this way, though freshly cooked ones are, of course, nicer. To each pound of beans allow one tablespoonful of butter, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, half a teaspoonful of lemon juice, salt and pepper. Cut the beans into fairly thin shreds and cook them in fast boiling salted water. When the beans are tender, drain off the water and dry lightly in a cloth. Put them in a clean frying-pan and toss them gently in it over the fire until they are dry and very hot; then add the butter, parsley, lemon juice, and a seasoning of salt and pepper.

Cauliflower and Bean Salad—This is a French salad, and most delicious. Cold cooked vegetables can be used, but if you are cooking string-beans for it do not cut them into strips; merely trim them. For the dressing take six tablespoonfuls of olive-oil, one tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar, one tablespoonful of white vinegar, salt and pepper, the yolk of one egg, a little chopped parsley. Trim the beans, throw them into a saucepan of fast boiling salted water, and with the lid off the pan, boil them until tender. Drain off the water and put the beans in a dish of cold water for ten minutes, then drain them well. Break a nicely boiled cauliflower into sprigs when cold, and pile them up in the center of a salad bowl. If the flavor of onion is liked, first rub the inside of the bowl with a slice of onion or garlic. Mix the oil, vinegar, salt and pepper; pour half of this dressing over the cauliflower; beat up the yolk of an egg, add the rest of the dressing gradually to it, then toss the beans about in this mixture and arrange around the cauliflower. Sprinkle with a little chopped parsley and serve.

DISCUSSION IS WARM.

Provo, June 19.—A warm session of the city commissioners and the citizens of Provo was held last night in the commissioners' rooms. A number of women were present, who took part in the discussion, which was quite spirited at times. The chief point of controversy was: Shall Provo pave eight blocks on Academy street?

Several were bitter against the proposition and accused the city of being in a bankrupt condition. This was repudiated by Mayor C. F. Decker, who will seek re-election this fall on the record he has made.

WILL BUILD NEW BRIDGES.

Brigham City, June 19.—The bids for the construction of steel and concrete bridges in Box Elder county were opened at the last meeting of the county commissioners, and were as follows: Cement bridges at Hon-eyville, Mantua, west of Brigham City, Beaver Dam and Salt Creek, Fowler & Christiansen, Brigham, $426,160; James J. Burke company, $415,333; Ryberg Bros., $435,939. The contract was awarded to the firm of Fowler & Christiansen.

For the construction of steel bridges the following bids were received: James J. Burke company, $839; Minneapolis Steel & Machinery Co., $821; Idaho Bridge Co., $900; United States Bridge Co., $739; A. A. Clark Co., $735. The bid of the A. A. Clark company was accepted. The steel bridge will be constructed over Malad river near Plymouth. The Clark company already has a contract for the construction of fourteen steel bridges in this county. These bridges are located in different parts of the county and are nearly completed.

REBEL RAID ON MORMONS

Colonial Juarez Is Scene of Further Outrages Against the Colonists—Search Homes For Ammunition and Steal Horses and Supplies

El Paso, Tex., June 20.—Colonial Juarez has been looted again by Mexican rebels. When the Castillo insurgents left Pearson for Elvalle they looted the houses in the colony for arms and ammunition and took all the horses they could find which belonged to the Mormon colonists. The store had been looted also often there was nothing there to steal.

There were 300 of the rebels, Mormons who arrived from the colonies last evening report. These Mormons visited Pearson soon after the fight there with the federals and saw where the eight hundred men were killed in this battle were buried in the rear of the company hotel. The rebels visited San Diego ranch en route to Elvalle and took everything movable there. The Elvalle country that is to be used as a mobilization place of the rebels of western Chihuahua, is near the colonies.

Five thousand insurgents and 300 federals yesterday afternoon began a general engagement at Ortiz, Sonora. It is believed to be the final struggle between General Ojeda's federal column advancing north of the port of Guaymas, and the constitutionalists defending Hermosillo, the state capital. The constitutionalist committee was notified of the battle's beginning by Governor Pesqueira.

DISGUISED AS A MAN

Suffragette Prisoner Escapes From Custody in Male Apparel—Passes Police Guard Successfully—Faces Many Charges

London, June 20.—Miss Lillian Lenton, the militant suffragette who was convicted of having started the fire in the Kew tea garden pavilion and who has given the police much trouble, has escaped in man's clothes from the house where she was living in Leeds pending the expiration of her license.

Miss Lenton was released from jail in March because of illness caused by a hunger strike. She broke her license and was not heard of again until June 10, when she was arrested at Doncaster under dramatic circumstances and sent back to jail.

Miss Lenton immediately started another hunger strike and got on license a few days.

She was placed in a house at Leeds until she had sufficiently recovered to be returned to jail and police guarded the house. She again eluded them and got away yesterday.

MOTHER'S PENSION LAW.

Seattle, Wash., June 20.—In the first five days of the operation of the newly enacted mother's pension law, 100 applications for relief have been made to the juvenile court of King county.

Many applicants who say they are destitute have been divorced. The law makes no specific provision for such cases and the matter has been referred to the court with the probability that divorced women who are destitute with children on their hands will be included.

We Want Money for Our MERCHANDISE

And we expect to give good merchandise for your good money.

We can't see how anybody can get rich selling goods on credit.

Your credit is good also, if you have or appear to have a good job or a good character.

We do not make any extra charge or change the price to a higher line.

We positively forbid any trade that isn't exactly on the level.

This extending of credit is only an extra effort on our part to be of the highest service to the buying public, especially the women.

We are for women right from now.

What we stand for because this is U-tah; though one woman is enough for any one man to stand for; believe us.

Just remember there are a few sale dresses left at $1.50 each.

KNOW LITTLE ABOUT DEALS

George Perkins Expresses His Opinion of the Government Attorneys in the Suit Against the Harvester Trust—Had Information Ten Years Ago

Chicago, June 20.—As George W. Perkins, former partner of the late J. P. Morgan, viewed it from the witness stand in the International Harvester company anti-trust hearing today, Edwin P. Grosvenor, attorney for the government, knows but little of "deals."

The particular "deal" in question was incidental to the formation of the International Harvester company (a project fathered by Mr. Perkins) particularly with regard to witness' efforts to purchase the McCormick, Deering, Plano, Osborne and Milwaukee Harvester companies. Mr. Perkins, under cross-examination, by Attorney Grosvenor, stood by his testimony that these concerns were under consideration, but not these alone.

"The title was successfully consummated in the case of four of the companies on the same date, wasn't it?" suggested Attorney Grosvenor.

"No, sir, not in the way you want me to say. I was working on the propositions simultaneously, but I think they were not brought to conclusions on the same day."

The government lawyer stated that the four contracts were all signed on July 28, 1902, and Mr. Perkins explained that a deal might be completed without anything being actually put on paper. That was a formal

"Didn't you get all the men together and discuss the proposition?" persisted Mr. Grosvenor.

"That," replied the witness with emphasis, "would have been the last thing in the world I would have done. Mr. Grosvenor, you cannot know much about deals to suggest such a thing. I was particularly interested in keeping the men apart. Had they come together they would have known I was trying to get the fire or more firms and they would have advanced their prices on me. I wish you could see this organization as I see it. You are looking back at it over ten years, while I look at it as a constructive whole."

"Yes," retorted the government attorney, "we are looking at the legality of its formation ten years ago. That is what we are interested in."

"You could have learned this long ago," replied Mr. Perkins. "If you had only called me then. But you didn't and I had to wait until now when I am testifying under notice. I probably will be criminally indicted for having given you this information."

GETTING READY TO ATTEND CELEBRATION

Members of the Gettysburg celebration committee of which Lucian H. Smyth is chairman are sending blanks to all of the old soldiers of the state which, when filled in, will be applications for transportation to and from the celebration, which will be held July 1, 2, 3, and 4. With the blanks is a notice setting forth a few important particulars of the trip. The comrades expect to travel together to the scene of the famous battle, but they may return by different routes if they so desire.

Membership in a G. A. R. post or a Confederate Veteran's camp, or a "discharge" paper or pension certificate will be satisfactory proof of service. In absence of these, a satisfactory affidavit showing your company, regiment or battery or ship, with date and place of enlistment and date and place of discharge, will be accepted by the committee as proof of service.

LOAN NOT AVAILABLE.

Mexico City, June 20.—Fifty million dollars of the Mexican loan may not be available for six months, according to an explanatory statement to the public made by the minister of finance today. Thirty million dollars, he says, will be at the disposition of the government by June 26, and the remainder in the form of two options of six months each. He continues:

"The only thing to prevent a consummation of the transaction will be that conditions in Mexico become so bad as to make the placing of the bonds by the bankers impossible."

The negotiations for the loan were conducted in Paris through the Banque De Paris et Des Pays Bas.

Freckle-Face

Sun and Wind Brings Out Ugly Spots, How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from A. R. McIntyre, Drugs, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles. (Advt.)

PUBLIC MARKET ENTERPRISES

Some years ago the people of Des Moines, Iowa, came to the conclusion that they were paying too high prices for fruits, vegetables and other country produce.

An agitation for a public market was begun and in 1911 the city commissioners established a "cub market" in the city hall park for the benefit of farmers and gardeners who desired to sell their products directly from their wagons to consumers, says the Louisville Courier-Journal.

The "cub market" proved to be a success. The consumers got better vegetables at more reasonable prices

KENTUCKIANS WANT TO GO TO SENATE

Governor McCreary (top) and J. C. W. Beckham.

Governor James Bennett McCreary of Kentucky has announced his candidacy for United States senator to succeed Senator W. O. Bradley, Republican. He will contest in the primary with former Governor J. C. W. Beckham.

than they had been paying to grocers, hucksters and commission men. By the same process the farmers obtained better returns for their labors than they were able to secure when they sold their produce in wholesale lots. The arrangement gave mutual satisfaction and the citizens, pleased with the opportunity of buying at first hand, petitioned the city commissioners to build a permanent public market house.

The commissioners appropriated $50,000 for the enterprise, and the new market house was completed and formally opened a few days ago. It is two stories in height and has a large basement. The first floor is divided into stalls where vegetables, fruits, butter, eggs, etc., are sold. The second floor is occupied by butchers, whose stalls are equipped with the most modern refrigerating facilities. The basement is fitted up as a "rest station" for the convenience of patrons of the market. Attached to the building is a large area of open shade, provided for the shelter of farmers who wish to sell vegetables or other produce from their wagons. Stalls in the building also are rented to truck growers who wish to occupy them regularly at a nominal rental.

The people of Des Moines have the right idea and it will be of lasting benefit if they keep it up on the same line on which they have started out. A market house conducted in this way will be of advantage both to producer and consumer. Every city in the country needs such markets.

CONTEMPORARY EMINENT WOMEN.

In interesting and suggestive group for consideration is that of the contemporary eminent women. Of these there are 107. The first item of interest is that this group is so large. 123 per cent of the eminent women of history are living at the time this study is made. It required over 2500 years to produce the remaining 87.7 per cent. This group represents nineteen nationalities, and twelve lines of activity. England, with twenty-two cases, leads in the number of distinguished women of the present generation; Germany and America each claim eighteen; France has twelve, and Italy seven. Austria has six; Sweden, four; Holland, Spain and Hungary three each; Russia and Poland, two each, and Denmark, Canada, Venezuela, Belgium, Roumania, Scotland and Norway, one each. Canada and Venezuela are represented for the first time in history in the present generation.—Cora Sutton Castle in Popular Science Monthly.

THOUSANDS OF STOCK CATTLE

BROUGHT FROM CALIFORNIA

The drought in California is forcing the big cattle men of that state to ship their herds to where the feed is better, and Nevada is getting her share of the "starvation cattle." Messrs. Robert Newman and George Russell, Jr., were in Beowawe yesterday, and Mr. Russell tells us that the big cattle firm of Miller & Lux have leased the Grayson ranch and are shipping in their cattle from the dry state. Saturday 2,400 head were unloaded at that place, and a few days ago 3,000 head were unloaded at Junco, to be ranged on the Dunphy ranch, which has also been leased by this firm. They have also shipped 10,000 head of stock cattle to Kelton, from which place they will be driven to the range in Idaho, and in addition 22,000 sheep were recently unloaded at Junco, to be ranged near that place.—Elko Free Press.
